THE LAO-LAUQUEN TRAGEDY.

There is no longer any room to doubt the sad and untimely fate of Mr. William McClymont, who has fallen, sword in hand, fighting for a cause the grandest and the noblest of this country.

We have said it, and now repeat it, that the secret spring which has given to everything in the River Plate such an impetus since 1879 is the Rio Negro expedition and the opening up of the immense back country which, up to that period, was exclusively in the hands of the Indians.

The immense zone of the finest pasture lands in the whole republic embraced by the Lao-Lauquen district is, perhaps, known to few in this city. The officers on the frontier, for the most part, know little of the camps so far out. The spot where poor Mr. McClymont fell is, we believe, the most advanced of all outside "poblaciones," and some 27 leagues farther out than the line to which the Provincial police extend their jurisdiction.

Trenquelauquen, although one of the most recent additions to our estancia land geography, is an ancient fort, some 85 leagues as the bird flies from this city; and Lao-Lauquen is a spot in the old Indian Pampa, 27 leagues still farther out, and the beginning of a new country where here and there the lands are thickly wooded, running out back to the foot of the Andes, where Captain Belisle and other National officers are at present stationed.

That all this immense and vast district will in time be peopled and settled on, we do not doubt; but it will take years, and long years, to effect. Mr. William McClymont, who had all the daring energy of Sir Walter Raleigh, should have left the stocking of these fine camps to his son to do, some twenty years hence. Last year, when Mr. McClymont purchased these lands, he applied to President Roca for a small picket of troops to be placed on the estancia, with a view to protecting the establishment. General Roca refused, stating that it was unreasonable to suppose the Government would put troops on every frontier estancia to protect it. General Roca suggested that Mr McClymont should take out a number of peones and keep them armed on the land until the place out there became more settled, and there the matter ended. But some tried friend of Mr McClymont advised him on no account to put cattle out there for the present, which advice he adopted. Six months and more ran by, no cattle were sent out; and now, when even people in Throgmorton Street, London, have bought estancias in Lao-Lauquen and thereabouts, and everything on our frontier lines has taken such a wonderful development, and the Western Railway branch will soon be to 9 de Julio, from thence to be carried to Trenquelauquen, Mr McClymont forgot his friend's advice of last August, and, inspired with fresh courage, he gathered his men and his cattle and fearlessly struck out for his Lao-Lauquen estancia, possibly with less apprehension than his respected father fifty years ago, when he first settled in Cañuelas and "poblared" La Cabaña.

Guillermo McClymont was known to us all—a fine, noble fellow, respected, beloved and esteemed by the whole country. It is not for nothing we need such a victim; and his blood spilt out by the savage on the virgin soil of the uttermost Pampa has not been shed in vain. From the blood-bedewed grass of Lao-Lauquen will spring the great and triumphant avengers of his noble and eternal cause.

Messrs. Purvis and McPhail, who accompanied Mr McClymont, were also killed; and we fear that many others perished whose names, perhaps, we shall never know. Heroes all—heroes of the real progress that carries this country along. We erect statues to Crevaeux and his companions. Shall we do less for poor McClymont and his Spartanic band?

The Leibnitz's Mails.

London, March 31.

The man from Cork arrested on his way from the Liverpool landing-stage is said to be named Dennis Deasey. The particulars which we publish elsewhere of the "infernal machines" found in his possession are of deep interest, and our correspondent says that the police believe that the perpetration of a terrible outrage has been averted by the capture. The Home Secretary had not communicated with the Liverpool police yesterday; and Deasey and the other prisoner, Flanagan, arrested at St. Helens, were not brought before the magistrates yesterday. Three men arrested in Cork on Thursday night were yesterday remanded on a charge of being members of an unlawful society having for its object the murder of certain persons and the destruction of public buildings. The authorities there expect to have about a score more men in custody very soon, and to have evidence of the existence of another assassination conspiracy, resembling those in Dublin and at Crossmaglen.

In the House of Commons, last night, Lord E. Fitzmaurice stated the nature of the compromise arrived at as to the Cuban Refugees. A number of the prisoners were about to be released, but Maceo would still be retained and treated as a prisoner of war of the rank of officer, and his wife and children would be allowed to live with him, and his friends would have free access to him. Sir R. Cross remarked that in consequence of the unsatisfactory nature of this statement it would be absolutely necessary for him to proceed with the motion he had on the paper. Mr Arthur Arnold called attention to the representation of the people, and moved that it would be desirable, as soon as possible, to establish uniformity of franchise throughout the whole of the United Kingdom by a franchise similar in principle to that established in English boroughs, and that it would be desirable so to distribute political power as to obtain a more equitable representation of the opinions of the electoral body. Mr A. Elliot seconded the motion. Sir W. Harcourt remarked that it was the opinion of the Government that an extension of the franchise to the dwellers in the counties on the same footing on which it was given to dwellers in towns was extremely expedient and a measure of urgent necessity which ought to be accomplished in the present Parliament. The Government entirely agreed with the terms of the resolution, and meant to carry out their pledges. He therefore did not know in what sense the motion would further the cause the hon. member for Salford had at heart, but if he went to a division the Government would support his proposition. Mr. W. E. Forster was speaking when the House was counted out at twenty minutes to eight o'clock.

The Queen, accompanied by Princess Beatrice, will leave Windsor Castle to pay a visit to the Prince and Princess of Wales at Sandringham, on Monday next. The Queen and Princess, with a small suite, will stay at Sandringham till Thursday. Mr. and Mrs Gladstone went yesterday to Sandringham, where they will be the guests of the Prince of Wales until Monday.

Last evening the Earl of Rosebery delivered his presidential address to the members of the Birmingham Junior Liberal Association, and in doing so alluded to the recent speeches of the Marquis of Salisbury in that town. He remarked that it was easy to sneer at what a Government might do, but it was not easy to sneer so well as Lord Salisbury, as that pre-supposed great natural genius improved by constant practice. Mr. Chamberlain, M.P., spoke afterwards, and described Lord Salisbury as a statesman who was 200 years behind his time. The people of this country, would not take even a Salisbury on trust. Alluding to Ireland, Mr. Chamberlain said that Lord Salisbury's policy that force was the only remedy had been tried for generations and had failed. Lord Salisbury seemed, he said, to have no sympathy with the mass of the people, not even with the loyal men of Ulster. He was eloquent in his sympathy with the Irish landlords because they had been compelled to submit to a reduction in their rents of 25 per cent; but he had no word of sympathy for the tenants who for years, under the pressure of eviction and starvation, had paid unjust rents. The speeches which Lord Salisbury had recently delivered revealed him as the spokesman for the class to which he belonged, who had grown rich and powerful by levying an unearned tax on what had been done by the toil and labour of others who had added to the wealth and prosperity of the country. The Conservative party was now under a "dual control" which controlled nobody, and Lord Salisbury's policy generally might be summed up in one word—"wars."

The Marquis of Salisbury went to Wolverhampton yesterday, to receive an address from the Junior Conservative Club. In his reply, the Opposition leader said he was glad to meet the members of the club, and that not only because they were common fighters in a common cause, but also because he was glad anywhere and everywhere to see rising these young Conservative clubs, which did so much to strengthen the party. They had an uphill fight in Parliament and the country, and they must take advantage of every circumstance. Their abiding strength was faith in their principles.

A meeting of the Court of Victoria University was held at Owens College yesterday, under the presidency of the Vice Chancellor. The supplemental charter giving the University power to grant degrees in Medicine and Surgery was presented, and instructions were given to the Council to prepare a statute relating to such degrees.

By the arrival of the survivors at Liverpool news is to hand that the ship Arzilla, of that port, was abandoned in a sinking condition on the 15th January, and that the captain, the first and second mates, and six of the crew were drowned through the capsizing of a boat. The Arzilla left Cardiff with a cargo of coal five days previously, bound for Montevideo. The schooner Alice, of Macduff, arrived in Banff Bay yesterday afternoon, and reported that while she was off Rattray Head, about 4 a.m. in a terrible gale, four men were washed overboard and drowned.

The Huddersfield woollen manufacturers resolved yesterday to maintain their positon in reference to the weavers' strike, and our correspondent says there is no prospect of an immediate settlement. About 12,000 persons are idle.

It is expected that as the result of a private inquiry at which 67 witnesses have been examined, three or four persons will shortly be arrested for the murder of Mrs Smythe in county Westmeath, a year ago.

The "alarm" at Dover which followed the arrest of the supposed incendiaries has now been completely dispelled. The magistrates yesterday discharged the men who were found in possession of the gun-cotton. The detention of the men in prison for a couple of days was not an excessive punishment for carelessness which might have caused a great loss of life and property.

The Dublin and Limerick Town Councils have resolved to petition Parliament against the extension of the operation of the Irish Sunday Closing Act.

Another 'manifesto' by Prince Napoleon was posted on the walls of Bordeaux yesterday. The copies were removed by the police. Louise Michel, the notorious Communist, was arrested by the Paris police yesterday, on the charge of "pillaging bakers' shops at the head of an armed band." The alleged crime was committed during the absurd "demonstration" of Communists early in the present month.

The Pesther Lloyd yesterday stated that M. Waddington will be appointed French Ambassador at Vienna in succession to Count Duchatel.

A Reuter's telegram from Cettinje states that all the Montenegrins resident in Scutari have left that place and returned to their own country in conformity with an order issued by the Montenegrin Government.

The Standard yesterday published a circumstantial account of the course which Mr Arthur Balfour has taken on receiving the "note" in which Mr West, our Minister at Washington, is said to have called attention to the violent language of Rossa, Sheridan, and other members of the party of dynamite. It was asserted that the President had consulted his Cabinet, whose unanimous decision was that nothing could be done. It is now officially announced that there is no truth whatever in the story.

The Apaches are on the 'war-path' in Arizona and New Mexico, and have murdered nearly 50 white persons. The savages—whose forays are always accompanied with the most horrible atrocities—have declared a war of extermination. The United States Government has sent a body of troops against them.

THE FENIAN OUTRAGES.

CAPTURES AT LIVERPOOL AND ST. HELENS.

SEIZURE OF NITRO-GLYCERINE.

For some time past the Liverpool detective police have kept a close watch on all the Irish steamers arriving at this port, in consequence of information received from the Dublin Castle authorities of the probable arrival here of Fenian conspirators. It was suspected that the dynamite party were in frequent communication with their "Invincible" brethren in England, and that outrages such as those which have recently taken place in London and other places were contemplated in this neighbourhood.

The police received instruction to devote special attention to the boats arriving from Cork, and for the last week or two a force of detectives has been told off to inspect the vessels hailing from that hotbed of Irish suspects. Extra precautions were also taken to guard against any attempts being made on the public buildings of Liverpool, and guards of police constables were placed round St. George's-hall, the Town-hall and Government-offices.

On Sunday night a descent was made on the Cork steamer Cormorant, almost immediately on its touching the Salishury Pierhead, but amongt the few passengers on board no suspected person was found, and Detective-Superintendent Williams and his men retired considerably disappointed; for they were in hopes of catching a Fenian or Fenians with something incriminating in their possession. They were something more fortunate on Wednesday evening when the Upupa, belonging to the City of Cork Steampacket Company, entered the river. This steamer, which very seldom comes to Liverpool, but more frequently trades between Ireland and the port of London, was brought alongside the Prince's Landing-stage shortly before seven o'clock for the purpose of discharging her passengers, of whom there were only eight steerage on board. One of the latter, a respectable-looking artisan, apparently about thirty-five years of age, was seen to leave the vessel, carrying an ordinary clothes trunk, which appeared to be of greater weight than usual. This attracted the notice of a police-constable, and he and several detectives followed the suspected individual as far as the end of the Prince's Pierhead, opposite the Waterloo Dock. On reaching that point they took him into custody and conveyed him in a cab to the Detective-office in Dale-street. The key of the lock of the box was in one of the pockets of the prisoner, and on the trunk being opened it was discovered that instead of clothes it contained two canisters, "ready-loaded" with something, and several bottles and papers of what looked to be chemicals. Captain Nott-Bower, the Head-Constable, sent at once for Dr Campbell Brown, the public analyst, and requested him to open the "infernal machines." This dangerous task was quietly performed, and Dr. Brown took samples of the compounds to his laboratory at the School of Medicine in Dover-street. In the course of Thursday afternoon he sent the analysis to the detective-office, and later on a copy of it was despatched to the Dublin Castle authorities at their request. Both the police and the doctor declined to inform the press as to the nature of the contents; but there is authority for stating that the two canisters contained a large quantity of nitro-glycerine, mixed with sawdust. This is considered to be a compound even more destructive than dynamite, and there is reason to believe that the same kind of explosive was used to blow up the offices of the Local Government Board. Dr. Campbell Brown is of opinion that the canisters are "home-made," that is to say, that they have been roughly prepared in Ireland by men trained to the work. The "machines" were all ready for the diabolical purpose for which they were intended to be put, but they were so rudely manufactured that any extra shaking or jolting might have resulted in a fearful explosion. It is very fortunate that they did not explode in the boat, for the "charges were of so powerful a nature as to be capable of destroying a large steamer. The contents of the paper and bottles found in the box have not yet been thoroughly analysed, but they are supposed to be of a less dangerous kind than those of the canisters. Little doubt is entertained that the man arrested is one of a band of Irish conspirators who have determined upon destroying public buildings in Liverpool and its neighbourhood, and it is believed that the police will now be able to expose the conspiracy.

About two o'clock on Thursday morning, from information given by the Irish police, ths Liverpool detectives proceeded to Sutton, near St. Helens, and there arrested a railway breaksman, named Patrick Flannigan, on suspicion of being concerned with the prisoner already in custody. In his possession was a loaded revolver, and documents were found in his lodgings which, it is said, are of a most incriminating character, and clearly show that he has been for some time acting in concert with the extreme and violent section of the Irish "patriots." Flannigan was taken to Liverpool and lodged in the Main Bridewell, Cheapside, and it is probable that he will be charged this morning before Mr. Raffles in being implicated in treasonable practices and with attempting to commit outrages by blowing up buildings. With regard to the other man, the police are awaiting instructions from Dublin Castle before they proceed further with the investigation.

The Irish authorities, on Thursday, telegraphed to the Head-Constable to send them the analysis of the explosives, and this was accordingly done, but Captain Nott-Bower has up to the present received no definite notification as to what course they intend to pursue in regard to the prosecution of the prisoner, who is meanwhile detained in the Dale-street Detective-office. We understand that he maintains a very cool demeanour, and that he seems hardly to realise the gravity of his position. No papers were found upon him or in his box which compromise any other person, but the police state they will produce evidence showing the ramifications of a "conspiracy" and some startling revelations may, therefore, be expected. As regards Flannigan, there is a strong suspicion that he has been the agent or "dupe" of a band of Fenians, whose objects are of the most nefarious character, and it has been pointed out that his position as breaksman gave him facilities for quietly conveying suspicious packages from one place to another in the locker of the break-van.

It appeared that the Irish police telegraphed to the English detectives to be on the look-out for a Fenian who was to arrive by the Upupa from Cork, and Mr. Williams's men had little difficulty in finding the man "wanted," assisted as they were by the members of the Irish detective force stationed in Liverpool.

From another source we learn that the Cork boat was being watched by Detective-Inspector Marsh, Detectives Johnson, Baxter and Robbins, and several constables in plain clothes belonging to the Liverpool police, and Detectives Canning and Curran of the Irish police. The prisoner, who was dressed in the garb of a labourer, was followed from the stage by Detective Baxter and Robbins at a short distance, while behind them were the rest of the police. The officers allowed him to go along the Pierhead as far as the Waterloo Dock, and then they made the arrest. The prisoner seemed to be so completely taken by surprise that he offered no resistance, and walked quietly to the Detective-office, where he is now detained pending the investigation. No charge has as yet been made against him.

A young Irish breaksman named Patrick (alias Patsey) Flannigan, aged about 26, was arrested at Sutton, near St. Helens, on Thursday morning, by the Liverpool detectives, on a charge of being concerned with the man who had come by the Cork boat in receiving explosives and infernal machines. Flannigan has been employed as a brakesman by the London and North-western Railway Company at St. Helens, and lodged with a middle-aged couple at Convent-row, Sutton. He appeared to have been suspected, and the circumstances attending his arrest strongly point to his complicity in the Irish conspiracy.

The Press Association says Colonel Majendie will examine the infernal machines seized at Liverpool, and it is believed their discovery will aid greatly the elucidation of the mystery attaching to the recent Westminster explosion. Nitro-glycerine is regarded as the agent in both.

A later telegram from Cork says:—A man named Timothy Carmody has been arrested, and the police are endeavouring to make further arrests. The Post Office is still guarded, and it is believed that the man arrested at Liverpool has given information inculpating the chief offenders here.

The Press Association's Cork correspondent telegraphed yesterday morning:—Up to two o'clock no arrests have been made. The house of a fourth man well known in connection with advanced politics was searched, but he could not be found. Herrichy, who has a stationer's shop in Blarney-street, was arrested in his house while at business. His house was closely searched and documents seized, the nature of which is not known. A revolver is said to have been found on the premises. Featherstone has not long arrived in Cork, and states that he is correspondent of an American paper, on a charge of being member of a secret society, the objects of which were to murder certain persons and to blow up and destroy public buildings. Mr. Blake, Crown solicitor, applied for a remand of the prisoners for eight days, and read an information of Sub-Inspector Starkie, stating that, acting upon private and reliable information, he had arrested the prisoners on the previous night. He had good reason to believe that he would be able to bring forward material evidence to sustain the charge, and he therefore applied for a remand. The application was granted. Two of the prisouers applied to be admitted to bail, but the application was refused, the presiding magistrate intimating it was too serious a case.

Her Majesty's Government has issued instructions for 2,000 infantry to be placed on protection duty at the various public buildings in the metropolis.

The 1st Battalion Coldstream Guards left the Tower of London to day for St. George's Barracks, Trafalgar-Square, being stationed in the West-end for the special protection of Houses of Parliament, Buckingham Palace, and other public buildings. The order to move was unexpected by both officers and men.

Sentry-boxes for the use of the soldiers who are to assist the police in guarding the new law courts were placed before the chief gate-way in the Strand, and near the Carey-street entrances, yesterday, and it is understood they will be occupied for the first time to-day. Similar preparations have not yet been made at other public buildings.

TERRIFIC GALE.

NUMEROUS WRECKS.

GREAT LOSS OF LIFE.

A severe gale, developing almost hurricane force, swept over the British coasts on Thursday night and yesterday morning, causing great damage to shipping and serious loss of life.

The ship Normanhurst, or Norman Court (Capt. M'Bride), which called at Queenstown for orders on Wednesday, being bound from Java for Greenock, with sugar, and there gave information of having passed two derelicts, has herself been wrecked on the Welsh coast. About half-past eight on Thursday night she struck on the Cymyran Beach and soon afterwards filled with water. At daybreak yesterday morning the crew of twenty hands were seen in the forerigging. Rockets were fired five times, but without success, and then the Rhosteign lifeboat attempted to rescue them, but filled twice with water, and had to return. The Holyhead lifeboat and a tug were next ordered off, but it is feared that the crew of the wrecked vessel have been lost. In any event the lifeboat will have a very difficult task, as a very heavy sae was running.

Yesterday the screw steamer Llanisien, of Cardiff, arrived in the Tyne from Malta, reported being struck by heavy seas, during which Samuel Rusden, seaman, walking along the deck, was washed overboard and drowned.

The schooner Alice, of Macduff, arrived in Banff Bay yesterday, flying a colour half-mast high. A pilot boat ascertained that while off Rattray-Head about 4 a.m., during a terrific gale, 4 men were washed overboard and drowned. Captain Davidson and his son brought the vessel in.

Early yesterday morning the screw-steamer Yan Yean, of Montrose, bound from London to Dundee, while attempting to enter Shields Harbour for shelter during the prevalence of the gale, got ashore on the Black Middens, off Tynemouth, and shortly afterwards sunk. The crew were rescued by a lifeboat.

Yesterday morning, two vessels were driven ashore and wrecked on Aberdeen beach—the schooners Queen, of Inverness, and Tom Duff, of Aberdeen. Both were coal laden, bound for their respective ports. The crews were in each case got off.

The schooner Stirling was towed into Dover derelict yesterday. The crew are supposed to have escaped in their boats.

A gale raged on Thursday in the Monmouth district, which increased to a hurricane during the night and yesterday morning, and much damage has been done to standing timber and to buildings.

A severe gale of wind has swept over the district of Durham since Thursday night, and great quantities of rain have fallen.

The body of a lady was washed ashore on Thursday night at Stonehaven, and it is believed to be that of the wife of Captain Welburn, of the Liverpool ship Dunstaffnage, which was lost with all hands on the 17th inst. The chief-constable of Liverpool has been communicated with on the subject.

A gale suddenly sprang up at Aberdeen on Thursday night, and soon increased to hurricane force. A wooden circus in course of construction and nearly completed was blown down, the structure being completely demolished. Fortunately no one was injured by the falling timber. Considerable damage has also been done to the harbour and property throughout the city.

IRELAND.

THE ASSASSINATION PLOT.

NO. 1 FOUND AND LOST.

The secret inquiry at Dublin Castle, before Mr. Curran, Q.C., has not yet come to an end. Mr. Curran sits daily from noon until five or six o'clock, and several witnesses are examined at each sitting. The evidence now being collected is intended for the purpose of a rebutting case should the prisoners charged with the Phœnix Park assassinations adhere to their determination of relying upon an alibi for their defence. Every movement on the 6th of May of the men who are to be indicted as the actual murderers of Lord Frederick Cavendish and Mr. Burke has been ascertained. The detective police have shown a good deal of tact in discovering the persons with whom the men associated from time to time during the day and afternoon, and until the time when they left Dame-street for the purpose of lying in wait at the place where the murders took place.

All the prisoners in Kilmainham are in good health, except Delany, who was in a very delicate state during the investigation before the magistrates.

The Freeman's Journal says—The communications that have passed between the Home Office authorities and the American Ambassador in London have resulted in the complete abandonment by the former of all hope of obtaining the extradition of the supposed redoubtable "No. 1." This mysterious individual, whose name is "Tyner," was in England up to the day on which Carey was first examined at Kilmainham. He had been suspected of some connection with the Phœnix Park business previous to that, and was under police surveillance, but when Carey turned informer he managed to elude the detectives, crossed from Hull to Bremen, and subsequently travelled by a round-about-way route to Hayre, where he shipped for New York. He was well known to the London police as concerned in Irish politics, but had neither the appearance nor the manner of a man formed for a conspirator. His demeanor was mild, even to meekness, and he suffered from a slight impediment in his speech, which served to increase the impression of indecision and hesitancy conveyed by his manner generally. The information in the possession of the authorities goes to prove that he was not only in Dublin, but was actually in the park on the evening of the murders. He went to London about a fortnight after the perpetration, and stayed there for two months. On July 12 last he was seen in a favourite place of public entertainment in London displaying a large orange lily in his button-hole, and, strangest of all, was in company during part of the day with two Government officials, a class of persons whose acquaintance he was known to affect. "No. 1" was an active member of a London rifle volunteer corps, which probably accounts for his military appearance.

The Press Association Rochdale correspondent reports that the portrait of "No. 1" which is in the possession of Mr. Mallon is not the photograph found in the carpet bag left at Rochdale by John Walsh. It was reported that the photograph was that of "No. 1," but it turns out that it is the portrait of another prominent conspirator, whose name is kept secret. The portrait of Mr. P——r T——n was obtained elsewhere.

A Dublin correspondent sends the following:—Within the last 24 hours I have had an interview with a person whom I had always understood to be a rank Nationalist and in symphathy with the men now awaiting trial. Though I cannot betray his confidence too far, I can still safely publish a few particulars gathered in the interview. Regarding the Society of Invincibles, he informed me that the name was totally unknown to the Fenians of Dublin. Carey, while one of the so-called Invincibles, was known by the active members to be of a bombastic disposition, and suggested this as a name for the organisation, and in Kilmainham, when examined, he falsely gave this as the name by which they were to have been known; but this was not the actual and recognised appellation. Farrell, the first informer, it will be remembered, called the body the Inner Circle, and Farrell in this was evidently more truthful than Carey, because on the members being first enrolled they were told by their right-hand man that they were joining an Inner Circle of the Fenian Brotherhood. Farrell, however, was not one of the trusty few, and perhaps never knew the name of the society to which he had yoked himself was the "Irish Avengers." This, I was informed, is the only and true name. Farrell also stated that he knew his right and his left man till shortly before the Phœnix Park murders. The other Avengers were in the same position, but Carey's mismanagement had allowed each member to have a certain knowledge of the men enrolled into their fraternity. Carey's statement that the mysterious person, through whom they were provided with money, and whom they only knew as "No. 1," was at first doubted, but now I have the safest ground for saying it was quite in accordance with the truth. Tynan, the stationer's traveller, was subaltern of a well-known personage, a gentleman who during his public career has made no secret of his Nihilistic and Nationalist opinions, and is well-known in political circlers at the present day. 'No. 1' received all orders and cash from this gentleman in person when they met at a well-known club in London, and "No. 1" afterwards, when the excuse of business, always contrived a visit to Dublin. Tynan did not always communicate his instructions direct to Carey. Sometimes a third party was employed, this third party upon the one who first brought the two into communication—a person who is at present in Ireland. I have also discovered that Tynan and the now notorious Captain Aylward were at one time much together, and during late years, though they have never met, they have often been in correspondence with each other.

"ENGLISH AS SHE IS SPOKE."

A little volume has quite recently been published by Messrs. Field and Tuer, of "ye Leadenhalle Presse," which is affording the utmost amusement to its readers. It is entitled "English as She is spoke," and is, in truth, a literal reproduction of the English portion of a Portuguese guide to conversation in the English language. The amazing and most ridiculous fact connected with it is that the Portuguese compiler is obviously entirely ignorant of English, and has produced this educational treatise by aid of a French-English dictionary and a Portuguese-French phrase book. Monstrous and, indeed, wholly incredible as at first it seems, it is true that the editor actually thought it possible to assist the youth of Portugal to a knowledge of conversational English without possessing a glimmering idea of the proper use of any single English word. The result of his labours is necessarily excruciatingly funny. Of course the idiom is always Portuguese and the meaning is always a bastard French. The author's preface to "English as She is Spoke" sets out with the remark that "a choice of familiar dialogues, clean of gallicisms, and despoiled phrases, it was missing yet to studious Portuguese and Brazilian Youth." The author goes on to say: "We sought all we may do, to correct that want, composing and divising the present little work in two parts." After sundry mysterious sentences (which could only be understood, perhaps, by the help of a pretty copious dictionary of French synonyms) the sapient editor concludes with the following solemn strictures levelled against the careless writers who have gone before him on the same ground: "The Works which we were confering for this labour, fond use us for nothing; but those what were publishing to Portugal, or out, they were almost all composed for some foreign, or for some national little acquainted in the spirit of both languages. It was resulting from that corelessness to rest these Works fill of imperfectious, and anomalies of style; in spite of the infinite typographical faults which some times, invert the sense of the periods. It increase not to contain any of those Works the figured pronunciation of the english words, nor the prosodical accent in Portuguese; indispensable object whom wish to speak the English and Portuguese languages correctly." "We expect then," he says in a last word, "who the little book (for the care what we wrote him, and for her typographical correction) that may be worth the acceptation of the studious persons, and especialy of the youth, at which we dedicate him particularly." In the absence of a new jest book, It will serve admirably to create an hour's continuous laughter. The book closes with a choice selection of 'Proverbs and Idiotisms,' among which are, 'He is not so devil as he is black;' 'Take the occasion for the hairs;' 'Cat scalded fear to cold water;' 'He is beggar as a church rat;' 'To buy cat in pocket,' and 'Tell me whom thou frequent, I will tell you which you are,' —all excellent idiotisms. Of the 'anecdotes,' we can only find room for one:—'A physician eighty years of old had enjoied of a health unalterable. Their friends did him of it compliments every day: 'Mister doctor,' they say to him, 'you are admirable man. What you make then for to bear you as well?' 'I shall tell you it, gentlemen,' he was answered them, and I exhort you in same time at to follow my example. I live on the product of my ordering without take any remedy who I commend to my sicks.'"

EDITOR'S TABLE

We have to thank Messrs. Lamport and Holt's courteous agents for late papers (31st March) by the Leibnitz. There is lots of news, most of it of a nitro-glycerine character. The famous Number One's identity is proved at last, but he is safe in America, and Our Cousins won't give him up. Everybody in the Three Kingdoms is still laughing at Lady Florence Dixie, but she sticks to her statement, like the jolly young brick she is. The famous John Brown has gone to the "Land o' the Leal." (We hope there is no mistake this time, either as to the fact, or the application of the words.) The papers speak of him in a rather flattering tone.

We have but little to add to the sad news from Trenquelauquen we gave yesterday. It is said that nine men fell along with poor Mr McClymont, including Messrs. Purvis and McPhail, two young men who were highly esteemed and liked. The remains of Mr McClymont will be exhumed and brought to this city for interment in the family tomb. We learn on good authority that the cattle carried off did not belong to Mr McClymont, who had no cattle out there. Some of the papers say that Dr Newberry is the owner. In either case, they are safe, as the Indians abandoned them in their flight. Mr McClymont's eldest son arrived in town yesterday morning, having had a direct telegram from the frontier with the sad news.

There was an error in our translation of the Havas Telegram about the French Rentes yesterday. An and instead of a not made all the difference, in the last line. It doesn't matter. M. Tirard won't see it; at least we hope not.

The prison at Mercedes must be admirably managed. Two convicts there had a fight with knives on Wednesday, and one fell dead, pierced clean through the heart by his opponent.

The Municipality met on Wednesday and, after a breezy sitting, approved of the elections on Sunday last. In Santa Lucia Ward there was no election, so there will be another field-day down there.

The Ministerial crisis is officially denied in a sort of "did-you-ever?" way that leaves the public a little uncertain on the point. The Minister of the Interior will leave for Mendoza and Tucuman to-morrow, and will be absent about a month.

The Provincial Chambers have got a bad fit of their hereditary gout—no quorum. "A plague on both your houses!" say the public. Neither Chamber has met for a month of Sundays, and "When shall we two meet again?" is now incessantly whistled by both Senators and Deputies.

We see some official orders issued to some public bodies and departments to return money to the Treasury! The Constitution, the country, and the whole box and dice must be in danger. It is so monstrously hard to screw a copper out of the Treasury, that it is an insult to human nature to expect to get it back.

The Masonic Temple in Calle Cangallo has been sold to the Government for a public school—price $850,000 %.

There are rumours of a fresh rumpus in Corrientes, and, as our correspondent there remarked the other day, the "boss" will have to "wade in," if they neglect his paternal admonition—"No row, boys; no row."

A colleague feelingly remarks that the day of salvation for Banda Oriental is at hand. This means a patriotic shindy, we suppose; but we don't believe a word of it. The Port Bill is now law as well as the Bank Bill, and the prospects across the river are anything but bad, if the "patriots" can be prevailed on to "take a back seat" for a reasonable time. The only inflammatory news from Montevideo yesterday was the explosion of a powder factory, and a consequent sharp rise in bricks and mortar.

The funeral service at the Cathedral yesterday, for the late Miss Dolores Pacheco, was a most imposing ceremony. The church was crowded with the elite of society, and everyone present carried a lighted candle.

The supply of Pipe Water will be constant on and after May 1st. During the summer it was most ladylike-inconstant—and you never knew when you had it.

Mr. and Mrs. John Drysdale's ball was the fashionable event of last night. Elegant equipages from all parts of the city were dashing towards Calle Venezuela up to midnight, and even later. We hope to give a full description of the event to-morrow.

A waiter in the café San Martin had his left eye operated on by a guest the other night. The instrument used was a champagne bottle. The surgeon was "hauled."

Nicaragua is certainly an exceptional Republic. It possesses an opposition Interoceanic Canal route; an immense extent of forest, plain, and mountain territory abounding in products of all kinds; two coasts, one on the Atlantic and one on the Pacific, which are fairly accessible even at present; but, above all it "has no foreign debt," its exports exceed its imports, and its governmental expenditures are limited to its actual receipts. The statement of these facts must convey the idea of a state of Arcadian happiness to other Republics near it which are overburthened with debt, and whose names never appear in the financial journals unless as the moral to adorn a tale of virulent abuse.

The Industrial Club auction of native products on Wednesday night was a success for the buyers. Fine wine of the Huergo brand going for 12 paper dollars the bottle, and Argentine Brandy for 14! The auctioneer was so disgusted that he expressed his intention of advising Mr. Hnergo to take to agriculture and sow potatoes. Very stiff whiskey can be made from potatoes.

There is excellent news from Santiago. Forty kilometres of earthworks of the extension of the Tucuman Railway are already laid, and the rails will soon be out from England. There are 1000 men at work.

They had a mild earthquake at Amsterdam on St. Patrick's Day. It being their first experience of the kind, the worthy Dutchmen were rather taken aback, but not to say frightened, as it takes two earthquakes to frighten a Hollander.

The Skating Rink in Calle Esmeralda will reopen to-morrow.

Dr. Kirwan, Dean of Killala, is said to have preached the shortest sermon on record, under the following circumstances:—He was pressed (while suffering from a severe cold) to preach in the church of St. Peter's, Dublin, for the orphan children in the parish school; he tried to excuse himself, but at last yielded, ill as he was. After ascending to the pulpit, and having given out the text, he merely pointed out his hand to the children in the aisle, and said, "There they are." It is said that the collection on that occasion exceeded all belief.

Cedulas A 100½
Cedulas E 86½
National Bank Shares.... 105½
The transactions in Cedulas Series E were to-day as follows:—9,000 at 86½ cash; 57,000 at 86½ for end of the month, 20,000 at 86½ for May 31st.
National Bank Shares, 700 cash, at 105⅝-¾-½, and 1,950 for the end of the month at 105½, 106, and 105¾. For May 31st, 950 at 107, 106⅞, 106⅝, 106⅞, 107 and 107⅛.
The attention of the ring to-day was centred on National Bank Shares, the transactions of which have been important as compared with the business of the past few days. Prices have not advanced much as yet, but as it is evident that the bears are over-sold for the end of this month, as well as next, and that the Bulls are prepared to take up [illegible] that may be delivered in the [illegible] rise may be considered certain itself, w[illegible]
Cedulas were in demand never used and prices stiffened to 86¼, while [illegible] conviction the [illegible] profession [illegible] there were sellers at one-eighth [illegible] other [illegible] the result of this month's liquidation [illegible] Chemistry uncertain; the bears threaten [illegible] Co deliveries, while the bulls triumphantly proclaim their ability to take up all that can possibly come. Nothing further transpired concerning the Loan.
Discounts are less easy, two of the private banks doing nothing for the moment. We quote 7½ to 8 o/o for pagares.
Exchange rates continue unaltered. Little business doing, drawers holding out for same rate as Provincial Bank, 49½d on London; 5.16 Paris.
At afternoon there was very little animation.
The sales were—
7,000 Serie E, at 86½ for May 31st.
30,000 " 86¾ "
200 Shares at 105½ for April 30th.
200 " 106½ for May 31st.
An offer of $30,000 % per league was made to-day to a purchaser of some of the Cordoba lands sold by Bullrich yesterday, for his 'boleto', but it was refused. This shows what a bargain these lands are for the lucky buyers. Salas and Cernadas, whose lands adjoin, are asking $250,000 per league. It is true the latter give 8 years to pay, and the former only four, but even so, the difference is immensely in favour of the lands sold on Wednesday. Either the sale was effected by the Indian news, or lands are temporarily weakening in prices.
National Government Proveeduria Bills—For the moment there is a great dearth of these. Holders look for a low rate of discount, say 8 o/o per annum. Discounters ask for 8½ and even refuse to do under 9 o/o.
The sale of three more leagues of the Loreto land sold by auction on the 15th March has been re-sold at a considerable profit. The price paid at the auction was $140,000 %. This shows clearly the high credit these lands enjoy, notwithstanding the many protests. Broker of the business, Mr. Weill.
The American steamer Mendoza, for New York, sailed this morning with the following cargo:—
4,950 salted hides
10,295 dry hides
83 bales hair
69 bales nutria
27 bales goatskins
15 bales garras
The latest particulars regarding the success of Dr. Llambi Campbell's mission are that the Cedulas are to be quoted on the London and Paris Exchanges. The very fact of these being quoted gives to the Bank a position that it never hitherto enjoyed. New series will be issued and heavy capitalists looking for high interest will be anxious to secure them. The present emission will at once disappear from this market, as it is well known at home what good stock they are and on what a good guarantee they are issued. The more Cedulas go out the more gold comes in, consequently in a short time the impetus that our industries will receive from this brilliant hit of Dr. Llambi Campbell will at once become apparent here. Our Provincial Government deserve all praise for the able manner in which they have carried out this financial scheme.
The sales at the ring were as follows:—
Cedulas—
For cash E 9,000 at 86½
For April 30th E 57,000 at 86¼
For May 31st E 20,000 at 86½
Sales, 86,000
National Bank Shares—
For cash 700 at 105⅜-¾-½
For April 30th 1,650 at 105½-106-105½
For May 31st 950 at 107-106⅞-¾-107⅛
Sales, 3,600
The latest news from the Mount reports everything calm, and very little doing in commercial circles. In exchange on Europe few operations reported and only in bank paper. Rates were quoted yesterday at between 51½ to 51¾. On Rio a little was done at 11:480, but no drawers at this rate
News of the complete wreck on the Paranagua bar of the splendid steamer Rio Branco, belonging to the Rio National Steam Navigation Company, was received yesterday in Montevideo. All the passengers and crew saved, and vessel insured in seven different companies in Rio for the sum of £26,000.
By the Leibnitz, which arrived this morning, six magnificent black Norman bulls, one Durham, one carriage horse and twenty rams were landed this morning, all pure blood. The more the merrier.
The new Italian Minister for Montevideo is expected to arrive there on the 8th of next month.
In the lawsuit Younger v. Bunge Dr. Ugarriza, Federal Judge, has decided the action in favour of the former, ordering Mr. Bunge to pull down the wall he had erected on Mr Younger's property and pay costs of judgment.
With the object of erecting suitable buildings for Custom House, &c. in Bahia Blanca Mr. White, Chief of the Engineers Department, has addressed a note to the Revenue Office asking for particulars regarding the import and export trade, number of vessels, their tonnage, duties collected, &c. in the Bahia Blanca port, so that he may be able to erect the above establishments, basing their capacity, &c. on the report he may receive.
The Times, of March 30th, in its Money Market column, gives the following:—
"The money market continues very firm. Money has been in strong demand at the Bank of England, and lenders outside have been busy throughout the day. The advance in the New York exchange, however, and the prospect of still further ease there caused a slight diminution in the stringency here in the afternoon, and loans were obtained towards the close of business with somewhat less difficulty than in the morning, although the rates remained the same as yesterday, 3 o/o being quoted for call money, and 2½ o/o for three months' bank bills. The rates for loans to the Stock Exchange for the fortnight were unchanged from yesterday at 3½ to 4 o/o. On 'Change there was an improved demand for remittances on France, Germany and Spain. Dutch bills were, however, rather more offered. The Remataremos, con la base arriba fijada y dinero de contado, por orden terminante de su propietario.

El area de campo arriba indicada, ubicada en la Provincia de Cordoba, departamento del Rio IV. denominados en Santo Tomás, La Ramada y Cerro de la Madera, lotes nums. 20, 21, y 25 Serie A., cada lote ó suerte compuesta de cuatro leguas cuadradas, con aguadas y leña.

El Ferro-Carril Andino pasa por la esquina del campo lote numero 25, Cerro de la Madera distante 2 leguas de la estacion "Chajan". El F. C. Trasandino pasara a igual distancia de la Ramada.

Los pastos son excellentes y lo prueban que los señores Seisador, Lucero y Dominguez, han tenido alli invernadas.

Los campos linderos de los señores Leonardo Pereyra, Julian Balbin y Avellaneda, estan todos poblados y arrendados; el campo de este ultimo esta cercado.

Come se sabe, los campos de Rio IV son reputados sobre salientes y creemos que por base de $f. 2500 oro por legua, nadie vende alli.

Los interesados tienen sobrado tiempo de ir a ver estos campos para lo cual hemos dado un mes a los avisos. Titulos de primer orden.

78—ALSINA—78
El Lunes 7 de Mayo 1883
A las 3 de la tarde

Remataremos con la base arriba fijada y condiciones que mas abajo se indican por orden terminante de su dueño.

Una area de campo situada en el partido de Bahia Blanca compuesta de 6114 hectareas igual a 2½ leguas cuadradas.

Las poblaciones que contienen son la estancia Las Merinas compuesta de una casa de material, figuri de azotea con parapeto, techo de fierro con canaleta, con dos habitaciones de 6 vs. per 5, con cielo raze de madera y una cocina, pozo, jaguel de riquisima agua, suficiente para dar de beber a dos majadas, que son las que existen alli, quinta y dos corrales con 1100 vs. de alambrado.

Un galpon techo de 2 aguas de fierro de canaleta de 17 vs. de largo por 5 de ancho.

La calidad del campo es inmejorable y reputada como la mejor de todo el partido, tiene fama y conocido por La Loma Amarilla.

El camino que va del Azul a Bahia cruza el campo y pasa cerca de las casas.

Sus linderos son por el Oeste Las Saladas del Doctor Ocantos (antes Joaquin Amado), al Este Ronaldson y Sheriff, Cufoglia y Bisca, al Norte Lastra y Scott y al Sud Severino Lopez y esta marcado en el plano Mencke con el nombre de Diego Dodda.

Las bases para la venta son 130⅔ hectareas o sean 450,000⅔ mas o menos la legua, pudiendo el comprador seguir con la deuda a favor del Gobierno de la Provincia que importa 359,660⅔ pagaderos en seis anualidades de 59,944⅔ que vencen el 18 de Diciembre de cada año.

Escusado nos parece demostrar las ventajas que ofrece una venta en estas condiciones; ademas no debe olvidarse que el gran ferro-carril del Sud, se acerca a pasos rapidisimos a su termino, que es el gran puerto de Bahia Blanca y que el 1º de Enero de 1884, iremos en tren a ese Emporio del Comercio y la Industria.

No hay en la Republica entera campos que puedan rivalizar los de este Partido, destinado a ser la California de la Republica Argentina.

Por planos y mas informes, ocurran a nuestra casa, Alsina 78.
